Credit for Prior Learning provides students with opportunities to demonstrate competence at the college-level from learning gained through learning experiences outside of a college or university credit-bearing course and to establish consistent practices for evaluating and awarding undergraduate credit.

This form is to request Credit for Prior Learning that carries an external assessment of that learning. These external assessment types may include, but are not limited to, national standardized assessments; world languages seals and certificates; industry recognized credentials, licenses, and certifications; and noncredit instruction in programs such as registered apprenticeships, continuing education, and customized training.

*Other Credit for Prior Learning relies on an internal college assessment. Internal college assessment types may include, but are not limited to, credit by exam, prior learning portfolio assessment, individualized subject-area assessment, group or seminar assessment, and competency-based assessment.
