Student work authorizations are contingent on individual financial aid and enrollment details, as well as the department's allocation and needs. Students must maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress and remain enrolled at least half-time (6cr) throughout their employment. Students that have graduated and are no longer receiving financial aid are not eligible for work-study. Current work-study wage is $15.00/hour, and students are paid bi-weekly.

By signing below, I understand that work-study eligibility is a form of financial aid. As such, I agree to any necessary reduction in federal student loan eligibility to accommodate this financial aid award.
