PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Behind the evening newscast, your favorite YouTube channel, and every great print ad, poster, illustration, and photograph is extensive technical knowledge mixed in with a fair amount of creativity.

The Graphic Design and Visual Communications program prepares students for a multitude of career options in visual storytelling. Here, you will start the creative career you have always dreamed of, or never knew you could pursue, while staying close to home and saving yourself a ton of money.

PROGRAM LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon completion of the Graphic Design and Visual Communications program, the graduate will be able to:

1. Identify the many career paths that fall under the umbrella of graphic communications.
2. Participate in class critiques to improve creative work and develop communication and customer-service skills for working with clients.
3. Apply knowledge of various skill sets learned throughout the four-semester program to class projects (photography, video editing, graphic design and ux design, and more).
4. Develop a robust portfolio that is suitable for review by an industry professional.

5. Prepare student for production level employment after graduation and/or transfer to a four- year college or university that the program has transfer agreements with.

ACCREDITATION

The program is accredited in the areas of Graphic Communications and the Graphic Design by Printing and Graphics Association MidAtlantic (PGAMA).
